

A group photo of the Murray State softball team on a baseball field. The team consists of approximately 20 players and one coach, all wearing white uniforms with "MURRAY STATE" and their numbers. They are arranged in two rows, with some players holding hands. In the background, there are bleachers with spectators, a chain-link fence, and a large brick building with a green roof. The text "2018 MURRAY STATE SOFTBALL" is overlaid in large, bold, yellow letters with a black outline.

RACER FIELD HISTORY

After four years of playing at the City of Murray's Central Park, the Murray State softball team finally has a permanent home located in the heart of campus. The on-campus facility was completed in the spring of 2013 and officially opened on Mar. 15, 2014 against UT Martin.

Despite the loss in the field's opener, freshman Jessica Tawddle did make history with her lead-off single in the second with the first MSU hit at the new park. A week later, the Racers christened the field with a 7-2 victory over Belmont. On March 30, former OVC Freshman of the Year Casey Castile completed Racer Field's firsts when she hit the first homerun by a Racer in a 7-1 loss to Eastern Illinois.

The field, which is 220 feet to dead center and 205 down the base lines, is equipped with real grass and a top-of-the-line dirt surface. Each of the two dugouts are extremely spacious and features internet connectivity. A brand new scoreboard, state-of-the-art lighting, a 250-seat center grandstand and two 100-seat side bleachers are just some of the touches that make Racer Field feel like home. The entire perimeter of the park is surrounded by a white fence, reminiscent of the fences that surround horse farms all over the Commonwealth.

Prior to moving on campus, the Racers spent four years just across the street at Central Park where they were 42-27 (.609) all-time. The first game played there was a 6-2 loss to Evansville on Mar 3, 2010, while the last was a 10-9, 9-inning win over Austin Peay on May 5, 2012. Stephanie Mattocks was the first Racer to ever homer at Central Park, doing so in the opening game in 2010. The last was Sarah Anderson who went yard in game one of the May 5 doubleheader against Austin Peay. Mattocks home run was actually the first-ever hit recorded by a MSU player at Central Park, while the last player to tally a hit there was Shelby Miller with the extra-inning game-winner against the Lady Gavs.
