PAT SPURGIN RIFLE RANGE

As one of the top rifle programs in the country, it is only fitting that the Murray State rifle team shoots in the best facility.

The Pat Spurgin Rifle Range is considered one of the finest shooting venues in America and has hosted the NCAA championships seven times.

Murray State has updated the range with improvements including the latest electronic scoring devices and other completed remodeling projects.

The most significant upgrade to the range was the addition of twelve electronic targets made by Megalink Targets. This state-of-the-art technology brings the competition alive like never before. Shots are scored based on sound wave measurements.

Rifle matches are now more spectator friendly, because the audience can follow the shooting (shot-by-shot) on a large monitor. For the shooters, they get immediate feedback at their position.

The range retains the ability to be expanded to its maximum number of sixteen points in the future.

The Spurgin Rifle Range is located in Roy Stewart Stadium.
